

Christopher Voss is a lifelong commercial fisherman currently fishing lobsters from Santa Barbara. He is president of the nonprofit Commercial Fishermen of Santa Barbara (CFSB) and the California Abalone Association and board member of the Recreational Abalone Advisory Committee (RAAC) and the California Lobster Trap Fishermen's Association (CLTFA). He has an undergraduate degree in Aquatic Biology from UCSB and has collaborated with DFW, the Bren School and other organizations on fishery related projects.